Compressed Air Transmissions.

It remains to be ascertained whether or not the pressures of from several hundreds to several thousands, all things considered in compressing and in using, are possible and practicable in the face of heat and refrigeration, with the assistance of compounding, tipping, quadrupling and what not—that is, whether it will pay to employ this vehicle for transporting power developed at a convenient and economical point and distribute the accumulated energy for use through a system of street cars.Capitalists who invest money for a return upon the outlay are very careful in considering the enthusiastic although sincere views of inventors, and even if it is reasonable to believe that compressed air will eventually take the important place in the world's work, the investors who take the responsibility are very much in the position of the man who would know how to tell trout from mushrooms and was advised to eat them and if he did not die they were mushrooms. Obtaining, say, 10 per cent or less of the heat value of coal in the form of power for available use is a sure thing, well known, and, from the standpoint of facts, cheap. But putting Professor Tyndall's "mode of motion" into some other medium of transportation and paying toll at both ends of the line appeals to the man who pays the bills with a force not easily appreciated by the scientist. The losses met with in transforming mechanical energy into electrical energy and sending it in this form over the trolley wire and into the car motor, or in investing the mechanical energy in the pull of a cable, are more than counterbalanced by many conveniences and economies, and now the hope that some incidental advantages in sight may be realized, and still a little better economy be obtained, is attracting attention toward compressed air.—Charles A. Hugue in Cassier's Magazine.

Carlyle's Doggedness.

Carlyle's dogged Scotch unsympathetic persistency in measuring everything by his own ideas was sensibly depreciated by a story which Huxley told me of their mutual relations. Carlyle and he were for long good friends, but had a serious difference on the evolution question in the early stages of the controversy. Their personal intercourse ceased in consequence. After an interval of many years Huxley happened to see the Scotchman crossing the street in London, and, thinking that a layman might be ignorant, went up to him and spoke to him.
Carlyle did not at first recognize him, but when he had made out who it was he at once said with his Scotch twinkle as though he were confirming the last conviction of years ago: "You're Huxley, are you? You're the man that's been trying to persuade us all that we're the children of ages, while I am saying that the great thing we've really got to do is to make ourselves as much unlike apes as possible." Huxley, who had hoped that the weather or politics might have been a buffer for the sake of peace, soon found that the last thing he could do was to retreat and return to their tiff agreement to differ.—Nineteenth Century.

His One Great Trouble.

An old, bearded fisherman at a fastidious watering place was frequently visited during his last illness by a kind hearted clergyman who wore one of those close fitting clerical vests which button behind.
The clergyman saw the near approach of death one day in the old man's face and asked if his mind was perfectly at ease."Oo aye; I'm at ease," came the feeble reply."You are sure there is nothing troubling you? Do not be afraid to tell me."The old man seemed to hesitate, and at length, with a faint return of animation, said: "Well, there's just one thing that troubles me, but I duna like to speak o' it.""Believe me, I am most anxious to comfort you," replied the clergyman."Tell me what it is that troubles and perplexes you.""Well, sir, it's just like this," said the old man eagerly. "I cannae for the life o' me mak' out how ye manage to get into that westcoat."—London Tit-Bits.

Struck Lo's Fancy.

The golf stocking has met with astonishing success in this country, and the gentleman who introduced it is regarded as a public benefactor by those young men who cannot boast of much development of the calf. But the rage for golf stockings in civilized communities is not a circumstance to what occurred in Chicago the other day among a party of 70 full blooded Sioux who stepped off in that city for a few hours. All of Chicago's most trusted sights were regarded by them with puerile indifference, but when these untutored children of the forest and prairie beheld a job lot of golf stockings they indulged in a war dance and exhibited their joy in various other ways.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.A letter posted in New York will be

WHAT COURSE TO TAKE.

The Republicans have been telling us that the election of McKinley to the Presidency would restore prosperity to the country. Well, McKinley is elected, and let us hope that the wave of prosperity will sweep over the whole country. That there may be no obstacle placed in the way of the wave seems to be the wish of the people. What course, then, under the circumstances should the minority pursue in Congress? The House is Republican, and the opposition cannot retard legislation in that body even if it is disposed to do so. It passed the Dingley tariff bill in two days, and the bond bill in a few hours. If these bills will restore prosperity to the country and the Republicans say they will, and offer nothing else, would it not be advisable to place them on the statute books at once?

The Senate is not now, and will not be in the next Congress, completely under the control of the gold men. The Republicans will have forty-three members and the combined opposition forty-seven members. The latter could obstruct legislation, but is it advisable to do so? If the legislation which the Republicans tell us will restore prosperity is defeated in the Senate, will it not have a tendency to create the impression that they are right?

It seems that the proper thing for the Senate to do this winter is to let the Republicans and President Cleveland have their own way so far as financial and tariff legislation is concerned. If that restores prosperity there will be no just cause for complaint, and if it does not the people will be quick to discover it, and will apply the proper remedies at the Congressional election in 1898.

TO RESUME SPECIE PAYMENT.

When the cry was raised by Mr. Hanna and echoed by the gold press and hired orators throughout the country, that the election of Bryan to the Presidency would cause the withdrawal of several hundred millions in gold from circulation, W. P. St. John, a New York banker, said there was no gold in circulation except on the Pacific Coast. This statement, though true, was discredited by every one of Mr. Hanna's newspaper organs and Speakers, but now that the election is over, Mr. St. John's statement is corroborated by the papers which pronounced it false before election.

A dispatch from New York says the banks are contemplating the resumption of specie payment which they suspended some time ago. They refused to pay out gold for the payment of duties on imports or public dues, and there was no gold coin in circulation. Now gold is going into the banks and they see their way clear to resume specie payment. Heretofore Eastern banks would not cash a check with gold nor would the National banks redeem their own notes in gold. There was none of the metal in circulation east of the Rocky mountains, and people who did not see a twenty-dollar piece from one year's end to another, were led to believe that Bryan's election would drive out of circulation that which they very well knew was not in circulation.

A GENEROUS GOLD MINER.

Charles D. Lane, the owner of the Ulica gold mines in California, and one of Nature's noblemen, says he knows Mr. Bryan and he is absolutely above price. He would not accept $125,000 a year from any corporation. Money is as dross to him in comparison with his convictions, and when he starts in to preach bimetalism, he (Lane) will see that his traveling expenses are paid.

Mr. Lane says Bryan is a man of simple tastes and of moderate means and it is not just that he should bear the entire burden of his devotion to the cause of silver, when there are men who, like himself, can provide for his necessities while engaged in the cause.

Mr. Lane was introduced to Speaker Reed at the Palace Hotel by Congressman Newlands of Nevada, and he offered to bet the Maine statesman two to one that the Republican party cannot carry out its promises, and that four years from now he (Speaker Reed) would be with us advocating the cause of bimetalism, a proposition which the Czar declined to accept.

DESERVES CREDIT.

The Sacramento Bee left the Republican party when the party went back on its pledges at the St. Louis Convention and declared against free coinage. The Bee was foremost in the fight against the gold standard and did noble work in the people's cause during the campaign. It battled for freedom of the press and freedom of conscience and defeated Representative Johnson and Judge Catlin in districts normally Republican. Unlike many other Republican papers it meant what it said when it declared for free coinage, and maintained its self-respect if California did give McKinley a small plurality. If other papers in the Golden State had been as consistent as the Bee the result would be different throughout the State from what it now appears to be.

AN HONORED WOMAN.

Martha Hughes Cannon has the proud distinction of being the first woman elected to a State Senate in the United States. She was a candidate in the Lake city on the Bryan ticket against her husband, Angus M. Cannon, and she was elected by 4,000 majority. She is a physician by profession, and a woman of great force of character. She was one of Cannon's four wives under the old Mormon regime in Utah, but she has not lived with him since the passage of the Edmunds-Tucker act.

TELEGRAPHIC NOTES.

Colorado is experiencing the heaviest snow storm known in the State for years.

The official returns of Monterey County California, give Bryan a plurality of 277.

One hundred Armenians were killed and all the houses pillaged by Turks last Thursday.

About seventy persons attended the sixteenth session of the Farmers' National Congress at Indianapolis yesterday.

Transactions in wheat futures in New York yesterday amounted to 5,700,000 bushels. The closing price was 87½ cents.

The great astronomer John A. H. Gilden, Director of the Observatory at Goettingen, Sweden, is dead aged 59 years.

Four hundred delegates are attending the Fourth Annual Convention of the California Miners' Association in San Francisco.

Mr. W. M. Castle was released from prison in London yesterday by order of the Home Office on account of her mental and physical condition.

The Iowa Savings Bank at Sioux City closed its doors yesterday. Withdrawal of deposits and inability to realize on securities was the cause.

The Election Commissioners of San Francisco are proceeding with the official count. It is estimated that it will take fifteen days to canvass the vote, but some think it will not be completed before Christmas.

George H. Morrison, the defaulting treasurer of Rensselaer county, N. Y., has pleaded guilty to an indictment for embezzlement. His defalcation amounted to about $240,000 and he was sentenced to ten years and five months in State Prison.

A tramp found enough dynamite on the track near Mitchell, Indiana, to blow the engine to pieces. He signaled the approaching express train, and was fired upon by the wreckers and found unconscious by the train men.

Eugene Bosquet of Sacramento fired a bullet into his wife's head and then shot himself, both dying instantly. Bosquet was convicted of placing his wife in a house of ill fame and sentenced to State Prison. Pending an appeal to the Supreme Court he was released on $4,000 bail.

The regular session of the General Assembly of the Knights of Labor at Rochester, N. Y., opened with one hundred delegates present and General Master Workman Sovereign presiding. The meeting is secret, though it was ascertained that Congress would be asked to put window glass on the free list.

At Richmond, Missouri, after the Sheriff had vainly endeavored to disperse a mob that had assembled for the purpose of lynching Jessie Winner and Lon Lackey, charged with the murder of Mrs. Eva Winner, and her two children, John Sharp, a brother of the murdered woman, begged the crowd to desist, as he wanted the murderers punished by due process of law. His appeal had the desired effect and the mob dispersed.

J. S. Coxey of industrial army notoriety, has framed a new platform in which he declares for the demonization of gold as well as silver. He demands State ownership of railroads, telegraph and telephone lines; municipal ownership of street cars, water works and electric light and gas plants; employment of surplus labor on public works; State control of liquor traffic; woman suffrage and the election of President by direct vote of the people. He has called a convention of all who believe in those principles at St. Louis January 12, 1897.

THE VENEZUELAN QUESTION.

It is Practically Settled by the Commission.

WILMINGTON, November 10.—The Venezuelan Commission has authorized the following official statement: "The statement of Lord Salisbury reported in the morning papers makes it probable the boundary dispute now pending between Great Britain and Venezuela will be settled by arbitration at an early date. Under these circumstances the Commission, while continuing its deliberations in the preparation and orderly arrangement of many valuable maps, reports and documents which have been procured and used in the course of its labors, does not propose to formulate any decision for the present of the matters subject to its examination. It will continue its sessions from time to time, but with the hope and expectation that a friendly and just arrangement of all difficulties between the nations interested, will make any final decision on its part unnecessary."

Mrs. Castle Released.

LONDON, November 10.—Mrs. W. M. Castle of San Francisco, sentenced at the Clerkenwell sessions on Friday last to three months' imprisonment without hard labor, after having pleaded guilty by advice of her counsel to the charge of abducting, was released to-day on medical grounds by order of the Home Secretary.

The commissioner of prisoners, it appears, directed the medical board to inquire into and report upon the health of Mrs. Castle, whose condition was causing anxiety to the prison authorities. She was watched day and night by special attendants in the infirmary, and shown every attention possible.

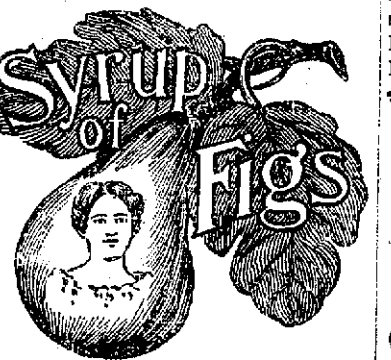

The commissioners, after receiving the report of the medical board on the state of Mrs. Castle's health, communicated with the Home Secretary, who promptly ordered her release from prison and that she be placed in the care of her husband, who will undertake to take her back to the United States with the least possible delay.

Fatal Shooting.

TACOMA (Wash.), November 10.—At 9:45 this morning S. S. Tucker, a painter, met Dr. J. S. Wintermute on Railroad street, near Eleventh, and suddenly drew a revolver, shooting Wintermute through the body. Tucker then turned the revolver, shooting himself through the head, blowing his brains out and dying instantly. Wintermute was not killed, and may recover. The latter professes not to know the cause of the shooting.

General Assembly.

At the University Assembly to day at 11:45 o'clock, Rev. M. L. Freeman will lecture on "Character." A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper effort—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

NEW TO-DAY.

There is Strength and Health in this Greatest of Discoveries

At Every Stage of Life Where Renewed Nervous Energy, Pure Blood, Freedom From Pain, and Normal Conditions are Desired, Paine's Celery Compound is the One Remedy That Will Really Make You Well!

The first women in the land have good reason to recommend to every sufferer Paine's celery compound.

The proprietors of Paine's celery compound are not "patent medicine men." They claim not one bit more of this wonderful remedy than it will accomplish.

They resort to no schemes to sell it; they offer no prizes. They believe in the only kind of advertising that can be profitable in the end; that is the recommendations that go by letter or word of mouth from those whom Paine's celery compound has benefited, to suffering friends, relatives and neighbors. The proprietors of this remedy have given out for publication the voluntary testimonials of grateful women and men, who owe their health to Paine's celery compound; they never plead a plan citizen with titles; they never call simple cure a miracle.

Paine's celery compound is to-day the least advertised of any prominent remedy, and yet its output is far greater than them all. The demand for Paine's celery compound is steadily, daily growing, while the sales of every one of the artfully but dishonestly advertised "patent medicines" are fast dropping off.

Although within a year the most astonishing number of people in high society, men who hold public offices of great importance, the wives of most distinguished citizens, such people as for instance, Mrs. Senator Quay, Mrs. Dr. Parkhurst, Elizabeth Cady Stanton, Congressmen Groat, Powers, Wilber, Bell, Mrs. U. S. Senator Warren, the great Presbyterian leader, Rev. Charles Thompson, D. D. of New York, Maj.-Gen. Birney, Congressman Meredith, of Virginia, Mrs. H. B. Sperry, Supt. W. F. Smith, of the U. S. Botanical Department, Helena Modjeska, Col. Littler, of the Chicago Product Exchange, the Rev. Dr. Meek,

President Rawley, Hon. George L. Fletcher, ex-Minister Francis—the public will recall scores of others of equal prominence—

Although it has happened that within the past year voluntary testimonials have been constantly received from hundreds of such people, men and women who need no introduction to any section of this great country.

Still the greatest pride of the makers of the remedy is not so much the reliance that the rich and titled have come to put upon it; but the good that Paine's celery compound is doing in the army of people whose circle of acquaintances is limited to their immediate neighbors, the good it is doing among the hard working people, and whose health is no less valuable than that of the famous or wealthy, and whose heart-felt testimonials are the best of all tributes to the first among American physicians, Prof. Edward B. Phelps, M. D., LL. D.

He discovered a remedy that could be put within the reach of the poor as well as the rich, a remedy that has revolutionized in a few years the general practice of medicine.

Until this discovery there was no cure for the many ill that women suffer—women whose nervous system, for one reason and another, is impaired, whose life is a burden on account of what are ordinarily termed "female ailments."

The pains and aches which our mothers thought they must endure, now vanish entirely under the curative, health giving influence of Paine's celery compound. Like nothing else, it gives new vigor, new life, new strength. It makes nervous, ailing women well and cheerful. It dispels sleeplessness, at any stage of life, to suffer from those serious ills that afflict so many. And Paine's celery compound not merely relieves but permanently cures.

BREVITIES.

Trib cures swellings and burns.
Skates at Lange & Schmitt's cheap.
Have you catarrh? Use liquid Viava.

Window glass, all sizes, at Lange & Schmitt's.
D. A. Bender arrived on the local from Carson yesterday.

No magic about Trib, no witchcraft just a liniment; but supreme.

The Grand Jury will meet to-day and consider business of importance.

Rooms for rent, single, en suite or for housekeeping. See 50-cent ad.

Trib, the new liniment, is in fact good. It cures bruises and sprains.

Buggy, quartz and lumber wagons harnesses, pumps, slatting, pulleys, etc. See 50-cent ad.

Stoves and ranges of all kinds at San Francisco prices at Lange & Schmitt's.

Have you piles? Use Sano, prepared by the Viava Company. It reaches the worst cases. Try it.

Jerry Bray, the popular conductor on the Virginia & Truckee local, has gone to California on a two-weeks' visit.

The Granite, under the able management of Jerry Corewe, is becoming one of the most popular resorts in town.

The appeal says the Ballion & Exchange Bank at Carson has sold the Nevada Creamery at Gardnerville to William Daugberg.

The wind blew 62 miles an hour in Carson night before last. In Humboldt and Elko counties there was quite a gale followed by rain.

Oyster cocktails, beef tea, hot scotch, apple jack, peach brandy, etc., at Thys if you desire to warm up these cold nights drop in and try one.

Another attempt was made to burn the Carson high school building on Monday night, but the blaze was discovered in time to prevent damage.

Mrs. Francis G. Newlands received a telegram from San Francisco yesterday informing her that her mother was seriously ill and she left last night for the city.

Genuine Belfast and Dublin ginger ale, sassafras soda and an ever running stream of pure and sparkling soda water and the best of ice cream at the New Palace bakery.

The new time table on the Virginia & Truckee is as follows: No. 1, express, departs at 8:15 A. M.; No. 2, arrives at 8 P. M.; No. 3, local, leaves Reno at 1:35 P. M.; No. 4, local, arrives at 11:40 A. M.

Hon. Charles S. Varian formerly of Nevada, now of Salt Lake, has severed his connection with the Republican party and henceforth will work in the ranks of the Silver-Democratic party.

The new requires newly elected State Senators and Assemblymen to file statements of election expenses with the Secretary of State before December 18th. This is a matter that should not be neglected.

A. Nelson will sacrifice his stock of furnishing goods in order to make room for new goods. Now is the time to get bargains. Call at his store on Virginia street. Free employment office connected with the store.

Rosenthal & Armanco have just received a lot of novelties, consisting of inkstands, paper weights and paper cutters made of Mexican onyx. The goods are very attractive, and will make handsome presents for the holidays.

Mr. Charles J. Kappler, Senator Stewart's private secretary, was married at Washington, D. C., Thursday, November 5th, to Miss Isabella Johnson of that city. The JOURNAL tenders its congratulations to the young couple.

The absence of tramps has been noticed for the last six weeks. It is reported that they were herded in the large cities to vote for McKinley and prosperity. Two or three thousand of them were voted in Oregon, where there is no registration law. Now that the election is over and their pay ceases they will doubtless make their appearance again.

Speaking of the federal pie to be distributed among the McKinleyites in Nevada the Carson Appeal says there are liable to be changes everywhere except the Mint, which is under the Civil Service rules. Superintendent Adams, who was appointed for four years, has two years more to serve, and those who were not appointed by the President cannot be removed except for other than political causes.

TO KEEP UP THE SILVER FIGHT.

An Address to the Silver Leagues and Bimetallists Unions.

The Directors of the American Bimetallist Union, who are among the leaders of the three silver parties, have decided to maintain headquarters in Washington. General Warner, at the request of the directors, has issued the following address:

"To the Silver Leagues and Bimetallist Unions of the United States:—Silver has lost in this election, but the battle for the overthrow of the gold standard has not ended. The disastrous consequences that must attend upon the continuance of this standard make it impossible to relinquish the struggle against it until it is fully overthrown.

"The gold standard cannot be maintained by increasing revenues, because revenues are not paid in gold. This attempt to maintain the gold standard by perpetual loans must also sooner or later fail. The only other way is by contracting the currency and forcing down prices so low that gold will come here of itself in such quantities as to constitute, in part at least, the currency with which revenues are paid, and no debtor nation can long maintain such a policy. Either course, therefore, leads to inevitable ruin; the one by bankrupting the Government, and the other by bankrupting the people. Either policy will subject the United States absolutely to British domination, and hence the rejection of the British press over the defeat of silver here. The victory for gold is a victory of trust and syndicated wealth, brought about by corruption and coercion, and not a victory by the people, for the people, and it cannot last. There must be an end, also, to the constant appreciation of money. The appreciation of money alone, if allowed to go on at the rate it has gone on for the past twenty years, will, in half a generation more, transfer the bulk of all the wealth of this country from those who have created it to the hands of the few who control the money and own the debts! No power can be conceived so potent to gather wealth into few hands as the ceaseless, all-pervading power of an appreciating money standard. No civilization can stand against it. It must end or the foundation upon which free institutions rest will be broken up.

"The battle, therefore, for the restoration of silver must go on without abatement, and I urge upon all silver and bimetallist leagues and unions to keep up their organizations and then continue the fight until victory for the people is finally won.

"The noble fight made by our intrepid leader in the campaign just ended endears him to all, and under his leadership we believe victory will be won in 1900."

A Mining Camp Play.

"Tennessee's Partner" is a romantic drama of the type that appeared upon the stage soon after Bret Harte's sketches of life in the California mining camps were given to the world. It owes its origin in part to Harte's famous story of the same name, and the result is a play in which all the most picturesque types of the frontier are to be found. The heroine is the repentant Magdalen, the hero is the cool and polished gambler who lives up to the code of morals that obtains among his kind, the boarded and red-shirted miners are there in all their honest and chivalrous heartiness, and the unsparingly rascal and the bibulous husband of the strident-voiced wife add the elements of villany and humor to the piece. The scenery is picturesque, and the situations are judiciously arranged. As to the company, Harry McDaniel, who is well known in this city, has the role of Caleb Swan, the gambler; Eutha Williams is the Tennessee, Charles B. Hawkins gets a good deal of fun out of the henpecked Geewhiller Hay, and the others fill their parts in a manner that should satisfy the dramatist. —Argonaut

Notice to Candidates.

There being some uncertainty among candidates for office at the recent election with regard to the necessity of their filing statements of their election expenses, I have considered it expedient to call their attention to sections three (3) and thirty (30) of the Parity of Election Law. Section 30 reads as follows: "Every candidate for a public office who refuses or neglects to file a statement as prescribed in Section 3 of this act, is guilty of a misdemeanor." Candidates, whether elected or defeated, must file their statements within fifteen days after the day of election or be liable to prosecution for misdemeanor.

F. H. NORROSS, District Attorney.

An Interesting Experiment.

Messrs. Wilson and Caffrey are doing some good work with their X-ray outfit, and have succeeded in seeing through a man's body. The effects of the ray on rheumatic troubles are truly wonderful, and the gentlemen have the thanks of several patients whom they have experimented upon. They have in more than one case succeeded in discovering the causes of diseased bones and other troubles. They are located next to the JOURNAL office, where they can be found in the evenings experimenting, and will be pleased to have their friends call.

Lecture This Evening.

Miss de Velling, an unusually brilliant speaker, will lecture at the Methodist Church this evening under the auspices of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Reno. Those who attend will be assured of an interesting time.

A bottle of the best liniment, Trib, should be in every household.

Bristol's Handsome Horses.

Next Monday evening Professor D. M. Bristol, with his wonderful horses, will begin a two-night engagement at McKissick's opera-house, including a matinee Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. One of the features of the matinee will be a free pony ride for the children. Comparatively speaking, Professor Bristol's horses are said to be wonders of equine intelligence, far superior to anything of the kind heretofore seen. Their exhibition will prove highly interesting, and should attract crowds of people. The prices will be 50 and 75 cents at night, and 25 and 50 cents at the matinee on Tuesday.

The San Francisco Chronicle says: "People marvel at the wonderful intelligence of horses at the Auditorium last night, and grew enthusiastic over the wonderful equine exhibition that was given under the supervision of Professor Bristol. The professor has certainly achieved wonderful success in the training of horses. The dumb members of his family are pantomimic artists of great skill. There are thirty horses in the band, and they all contribute to the success of the entertainment. Not the least interesting of the lot is a male, which is a clown of considerable ability, and which gives a very good imitation of a person engaged in delivering an address."

Diphtheria Cure.

The testimony of a prominent physician:

FOUNTAIN CITY, Ind., June 17, 1896.

This certifies that I have been using V. O. in my practice. I have never found any medical preparation in 40 years of practice that is so valuable to do so much good in so wide a range of diseases and leave no after bad effects. In Diphtheria it has proved a perfect specific in my hands, and I had rather depend on it alone in that dreadful disease than the whole popular Materia Medica with that left out. For sale by C. M. T. W. TAYLOR, M. D.

A Valuable Prescription.

Editor Morrison of Worthington, Ind.,

Sir, writes: "You have a valuable prescription in Electric Bitters, and I can cheerfully recommend it for constipation and sick headache, and as a general system tonic it has no equal."

Mrs. Annie Sieble, 2825 Cottage Grove Ave., Chicago, was all run down, could not eat nor digest food, had a backache which never left her and felt tired and weary, but six bottles of Electric Bitters restored her health and renewed her strength. Prices 50 cents and $1. Get a bottle at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

AN IMPORTANT DIFFERENCE.

To make it apparent to thousands, who think themselves ill, that they are not afflicted with any disease, but that the system simply needs cleansing, to bring comfort home to their hearts as a coactive condition is easily cured by using Syrup of Figs. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company only, and sold by all druggists.

School Shoes.

Tassel Brothers have a large and fine assortment of shoes for school children which parents are invited to call and inspect as they are being sold at a very low rate.

HARVEST SCENES DESCRIBED BY AN AMERICAN VISITOR.

Work That Requires Application During Long Days For Small Returns—Picturesque Situations, but There is Too Much Poverty to Admit of Poetry.

Yesterday I spent at Malling, an ancient market town about 30 miles from London, which is in the midst of one of the most fertile and extensive hop districts in the world, the soil being of the rich quality that produces the famous golden hop. I stood on an eminence and surveyed in every direction the plantations of tall hops, luxuriant on the straight, firmly set poles, the deep green of the vine leaves beautifully contrasted by the great bunches of golden flower. On a hillside a little distance to the left were the uniform white tents of the hop pickers, like the campment of an army—for you must know that the hop pickers are not residents of the neighborhood. They come from distances by families, a large proportion of them from London. And, be it known, the majority of the hop pickers are wretchedly poor. The pay for hop picking is so very little that only by the united efforts of a family of three or four workers is the result of the day's labor worth the effort. Last year, for example, the pay for picking was a shilling for seven bushels, so that a worker had to complete seven bushels before the shilling was earned. This year conditions were a little better, but at the best hop picking is only profitable when the family has six or eight pairs of expert hands to strip the vines swiftly. Some of the women have reduced this picking to an art, the deft facility with which they take four or five flowers at a time completely deceiving the novice, who imagines skill to be nothing in this business.

The poles in a hopfield are so perfectly set at right angles that you may look down a uniform avenue of overhanging vines in whatever direction you turn your eyes. But this exactitude is less for beauty of appearance than for convenience of arrangement of picking parties, for a field is let out in small sections, so many hills—two poles make a hill—to a family, according as the family has agreed for half a bin or more. Therefore, as you walk down the path that intersects a hopfield, you see here different independent groups of pickers, their canvas bins, with wide, flaring mouths, all of regular size, strung on poles and set on crosspoles, the length of their section, and while the main cuts the vines a third of the way up the poles and pulls up the poles to carry to the bin side the women and children incessantly work from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m., save only for the half hour at noon for dinner. And what a sight it is! At the very edge of the field where I spent most time, rugged and tall, the ivy draped tower of St. Leonard's, said to be the very first, and therefore the oldest, of the Norman towers, the picturesque ruins of which recall the intelligent visitor to rural England. This tower was built by Gundulf, bishop of Rochester, somewhere about 1078-90. This abbey, by the way, has been restored and is once more a house of nuns. At the foot of this old tower yesterday rolled and tumbled a score of grimy, half naked, tattered children, of ages running from the infant that should have been in arms to a pair of 4-year-old twins, in patched, dirty red dresses, and with huge brass earrings hiding the lobes of their unclean little ears. Thus did half-brothers young modestly kick up their slovenly little legs in contempt of that tall grim tower dismantled tower, built eight centuries ago to repel the assaults of those savages who were fore-runners of the present day Englishman.

And among the vines were the motley groups of persons to whom these little human blobs pertained. Not by any means as picturesque and fascinating as Italian grape pickers; nothing of the rich, dark beauty of the southern types, but a different sort of interest attaches to these hopelessly ignorant, half vagrant creatures, who have come to the picking—by donkey cart, by train, on foot—bearing with them their miserable utensils for cooking and eating, in their rags and their tatters, the filth of which they are not ashamed, sleeping by night in tents if they are so fortunate, behind hedges and under rude vigils of boughs, if they must, working from day dawn to evening close for a mere pittance—yet not without a certain vulgar or in any way commensurate. Here and there, to be sure, something more pretensions, the epitome of lower middle class shift and tidiness, but in the main a hop picking scene such as you may witness at Malling tells you what pitiful poverty and wretchedness are hidden from the world by the purple splendor of the richest nation upon which the curious sun looks aslant.

Still in imaginatively the picture of which I have given but true outlines. Scan the hillside encampment, where infamy and age swarm about the evening fires. Walk through the fields of vinegrape poles, that seem a compact mass as you look down upon them. Talk with these women and children stripping the yellow flowers swiftly from the stems. Glance at the various troops of thoughtlessly begotten infants rolling on the green grass or burrowing in the soft earth, and then, as you blow the froth from your next glass of beer, reflect how the best hops yielded by bountiful nature are gathered for your benefit. —Cor. Chicago Times-Herald.

SOUTH AFRICA.

What Judge Rising Says of the Country.

On last Saturday morning the Hon. Judge Rising passed through Elko en route to San Francisco. "It will be remembered by many of our readers that he with others visited South Africa for the purpose of establishing a law office at Johannesburg, South Africa. Judge Rising was induced to make this business visit from the extravagant reports that reached him as to the richness of the gold placer and gold ledges and agricultural possibilities of the country. Upon his arrival he soon found that a good deal of these extravagant reports were simply a matter of speculation on the part of the mine owners of that region. While it is true that the surface of the mineral zone is very rich in places, yet they were only surface or blank deposits and soon worked out, and in fine the Boers as a people and their government has much to learn and unlearn to make that country a desirable place for civilized people to live in.—Elko Silver Tidings.

The Ideal Panacea.

James L. Francis, Alderman, Chicago says: "I regard Dr. King's New Discovery as an ideal panacea for coughs, colds and lung complaints, having used it in my family for the last five years, to the exclusion of physicians' prescriptions or other preparations." Rev. John Burgess, Keokuk, Iowa, writes: "I have been a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church for 50 years or more, and have never found any thing so beneficial, or that gave such a speedy relief as Dr. King's New Discovery." Try this Ideal Cough Remedy now. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

ALASKAN SCENERY.

FEATURES OF THE PASSAGE FROM WASHINGTON NORTHWARD

The Beautiful Bay Dotted With Icebergs.

Grandest of All Being Mait Glacier.

The Magnificence of Mount St. Elias.

Giant Sentinel of the Rockies.

In making the voyage northward from Seattle one has scarcely left the waters of Puget sound before great patches of snow are perceptible on the highest peaks of the colossal range of mountains bordering the inland passage. These gradually grow larger and larger as the steamer wends her way to the north, and soon the loftiest peaks, both inland and toward the sea, are seen robed in glistening garments of purest white. Two days' travel brings one well into Alaskan waters, and by the aid of a good glass and close observance will discern the blue ice of glaciers creeping from under the lower edges of the snow banks. Lower and lower these descend as the steamer crawls onward, until the northernmost point on the route is reached, where they come down to the ocean level.

Here, in a beautiful little bay, dotted with 1,000 icebergs, some of the highest than the tops of the ship, great walls of deep blue ice form the shores, long arms of this ice break from the mother lode, as it were, and stretch far back into the mountains, where at the crest of the range they reunite, and running northward, form into a continuous chain of glaciers that line that portion of Alaska's coast for many hun-ded miles.

This little fairyland is called Glacier bay and the most attractive feature is the Mait glacier, the grandest of all the group, named in honor of Mr. John Mait, who upon the last excursion of the Queen again visited the bay and beheld the mountain of ice which will perpetuate his name while time lasts.

In matchless beauty, unparalleled grandeur and colossal structure it surpasses anything of its kind on the American continent. This great mass is constantly moving, and as it debouches into the sea huge pieces break from the front, and, as thunderbolts from heaven, they drop into the waters, rolling up great waves and making a noise like the booming of heavy artillery. These pieces float away as icebergs and carried many miles to sea before they finally are ground and melted into their original fluid state.

Visible to the north and west, fronting on the sea, are among the grandest peaks on the globe—Littuya peak, 10,000 feet high, Mount Cillon, 15,900 feet,

Mount Fairweather, 14,708 feet, thence farther north sublime Mount St. Elias, the giant sentinel of the Rockies, towers nearly 20,000 feet above the ocean that thunders at its base. How impressively grand is this heavy headed monster for every foot of his sides is in mountain

'slope' He bathes his brow in the clouds and washes his feet in the sea. No human being has ever planted foot on the summit of this mountain, although various attempts have been made by hardy explorers. Lying between the sea and the base of the mountain, perhaps three quarters of a mile in width, is a level and thickly timbered piece of land.

From this beach the mountain rises gradually to the timber line, approximately 1,000 feet. Here the line of perpetual snow begins and the slope grows gradually steeper. So in the blue is seen under the snow, and a little further up the entire face of the mountain is glistening with snow. This ice extends to within 5,000 feet of the summit, where the crowning peak rises, nearly perpendicular and assumes the form of a lofty watch tower upon the walls of an ancient castle. Snow and ice do not lie on the peak, except on the evidence of

for the reason that the sides are too steep

Probably only by aerial means could the summit be reached, and, even if that were possible, it is doubtful if a human being could survive the terrible cold which would be encountered in that great altitude. This mountain is held in great esteem and awe by the native Indian tribes. It is their great warrior prophet, and certain cloud signs they know when they can with safety undertake the journey along the

'ironbound coast,' a dangerous stretch of water running from Cape St. Elias northward to Yakutat bay, along which distance the mountains break clear into the sea.

The entire length of the inland passage, 1,100 miles, is heavily timbered with spruce, hemlock, pine yellow and red cedar. Great fields of snow have swept down the slopes, and here and there, in the streaks of timber have been felled down as a sickle would so much grain. At intervals Indian villages are situated, resting most picture-quely upon narrow shelves just at the edge of the water. These nomads of the north west spend two-thirds of their lives out of doors in their canoes, which are their only means of travel, and with which they obtain their livelihood from the sea. Throughout the entire stretch of country travel by land is almost impossible, owing to the dense timber and underbrush that cover the entire surface.

To the disciples of Isaac Walton these inland waters and their tributaries offer everything from the small colobians and herring to monster halibut, sharks and whales. The shores of innumerable bays will be found by the hunter to contain myriads of ducks, geese and other water fowl. In the forests he will meet moose, caribou and bears in sufficient numbers to satisfy the most ardent, and the Alpine climber who has ascended the Matterhorn can here find mountain peaks whose summits have never yet felt the touch of an alpenstock.—Alaska News.

Colored emigrants starting from Washington to Monrovia, in Liberia, would have before them a voyage of
